

Den folgenden Text erhielt Neue Schule von Fabiana Rutsch, Matthias Rath's persönlicher Marketing Managerin:

Recently "Neue Schule" bits caught Matthias Rath's attention and after trying them out and having an unbelievably positive feeling on every horse so far, we are very happy to announce that "Neue Schule" is going to work together with the well-known Gestüt Schafhof and Matthias Rath.

The difference you can feel when changing to a better fitted bit for the horse is extraordinary. Both horse and rider benefit from any form of optimization of the bit.

Working through the almost endless possibilities of bits from "Neue Schule" does not only result in positive changes in the riding but is also fun and informative at the same time. Every horse is different yet "Neue Schule" has shown various ideas to find the perfect solution for every horse with all its personal traits.

Samba King, the winner of the prestigious Nürnberger Burg-Pokal is a big fan of the "Turtle-Top" for example, while one of the younger stallions – Foundation – reacts super to "Verbindend" and Sir Picardi has already competed successfully on the competition in Bonhomme with "Verbindend".

All in all a fantastic and inspirational new approach of going from good to great! Thank you Neue Schule!
